Hello and thank you for picking up the Groovetip.com Grooveguide, where there is heaps of info to keep you groovin' for weeks. You will find listings of pub gigs, concerts, dance parties, Djs and more. The website (groovetip.com) offers the same information in addition to forums, music streams, music file downloads, international music news, photos, online games and a presentation of the GrooveTip artists. This guide is also delivered via the site's mailing list so there's no need to ever miss a beat!

Snap Lock Rhythm by Eden Altman (pictured on cover, URL: groovetip.com/slr)

I'm the guitarist, songwriter and captain of an awesome group called Snap Lock Rhythm. Awesome coz it's a bunch of very close friends who share my ideas and workshop them. We're into Rock, Hip-Hop, Funk and Dirty Fusion, I say dirty coz we be tricky but not glam and slick like Saturday morning PBS. We love to play our instruments and I guess the tunes we play are a platform for our own performance experiments, but I promise we ain't self indulgent.

Paul Havea sings with a soul rock rebel inflection, so somehow our music walks a tight rope of Pop on one side and radi navas sings with a solit lock reper innection, so somethy of binding warks a digit rulp or rop of one side and contemporary art on the other. Lyrically we're about the city; a big futuristic melting pot; an induced dream-like state of being, due to the Blade Runner-esque transformation of our world. There's lots of information, the pace can get hectic and the six musicans playing live can invert intense centrifugal-like traffic.

It's a long and rewarding musical road, you learn, you play, you make friends, you perform, you fight and sometimes you lose friends. SLR has been traveling this road for about 8 years with two name changes and at least 15 member changes; Paul and myself being the last remaining from the original group called Skattered. Although we've grown tremendously and explored many avenues of music (...and some are complete dead ends, mind you...), I always come back to the same original idea; play music that feels right, that speaks of your heritage, your blood lines and experience. If I think like this I can never go wrong as I can already hear the music before I play it. It's not about being safe, it's about being honest.

In SLR you might hear INXS, John Zorn, Living Colour, Lenny Kravitz and most likely other local bands and musicians that we've learnt from or played with. We pride ourselves on getting the party started, although we feel the need to have one or two serious moments at our gigs. Paul Havea, Julian Langdon, Jules Goyma, Dustin McLean, Lachlan McLean and I invite you to come check us out; coz music needs ears to exist.

Upcoming gigs: The Vineyard (71a Acland St, St Kilda), 10th and 17th of June. 11pm till late, admission free.
